

Internship Program Application

As the only state embassy in our nation’s capital, Florida House takes great pride in the programs and services we offer thousands of visitors every year. Our hospitality, education and cultural offerings touch the lives of thousands of Floridians. One such offering, the Florida House Internship Program, provides a once in a lifetime opportunity for college-aged Floridians to experience Washington, D.C. Interns spend six to eight weeks working at Florida House and spend one day each week shadowing a Florida Congressional Office. In an effort to help off set the expenses associated with living in Washington, D.C., we offer Florida House Interns a $1,000 stipend for six weeks of their time.

From Andrew Blasi, Florida House intern in 2006, “This summer has truly been one that I will never forget. I am grateful for all of the opportunities afforded me during the past eight weeks, from the wonderful people that I have met, to the multitude of skills that I have developed during my time at Florida House.... I understand the significance of being a resident in the only state in America to maintain such a magnificent organization in Washington DC. While working at Florida House, I have felt a strong sense of service toward my fellow Floridians, and as a result, I have been able to further satisfy my constant drive to help others. Not only have I been able to help constituents from my favorite state, but I was able to help them in my favorite city.”

Below is the information required for consideration to the program. In addition, please include a current resume with your application package as well as a cover letter and 1-2 references that should be emailed to jordan.pic@floridaembassy.com with ‘Intern Application’ in the subject line. You will be contacted for a telephone interview if considered. Please note, there is limited space and the internship slots fill quickly.

Thank you in advance for your consideration. We are most grateful for your commitment to Florida House.
