Diana Wisler Beckmann

Executive Director

(202) 340-7746 (cell)

Diana.beckmann@floridahousedc.org

Responsible for fundraising and the day-to-day operations of Florida House

Raised in Winter Park and Fort Walton Beach, Diana comes to Florida House after a successful career in non-profit and foundation management. She has managed large scale programs, fundraising campaigns, and outreach initiatives at the International Association of Police Chiefs, PBS, CARE USA, the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children, and the National Park Foundation. Throughout her career, she has focused on building relationships, creating strong partnerships that meet the mission of the organization, and ensuring that each donor has the confidence that their money is being used wisely.

A native Floridian, she has been coming to Florida House since she was a little girl with her family. In fact, Florida House was her first stop in Washington, D.C. after graduating from Florida State University as she sought to build a career in our nation's capital. Diana has her Master of Business Administration (M.B.A) degree from Georgetown University. Although she now lives in Virginia with her family, she keeps close ties to friends and family throughout Florida and enjoys traveling.

Liz Doyle

Deputy Executive Director

(407) 539-2513 (based in Maitland, FL)

Liz.doyle@floridahousedc.org

Liaison to all Trustees, Regions, Chapter Fundraisers & Committees

A native Floridian, Liz graduated from Clemson University. After graduation, she worked in the tourism industry in the Southeast. During her career she developed and implemented marketing and communication plans and programs to promote destinations to groups and travelers in the U.S., Europe and Asia. Taking her experience in creating and managing meetings, programs and projects, she relocated to her hometown and opened a consulting business where she specialized in marketing communications, strategic planning, meeting planning, and the development of print and electronic collateral materials.

Liz was introduced to Florida House by her mother and is a second-generation member of the Central Florida Council. Liz was also a member of the Florida House Board of Trustees, serving as Secretary; has held many leadership positions at the First Presbyterian Church; serves on the Board for the local library; and is a member of the Tiger Bay Club of Central Florida, the Orlando chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution and her city's Public Arts Committee. She still loves to travel but happily lives beside a sparkling lake in her childhood home.

Florida House Staff

Kate Langevoort Bracht
Manager, Events and Operations

Kate.bracht@floridahousedc.org

Responsible for all events at Florida House plus operations and administration

A native of both Washington, D.C. and Nashville, Kate comes to Florida House with a background in non-profit fundraising and events management. She graduated from Wagner College with a BS in Arts Administration, and holds a certificate in Events Management from the George Washington University School of Business. Kate has previously worked with non-profit organizations here in D.C. advocating for arts education and adults with intellectual disabilities.

Kate grew up spending summers and holidays with family in the Sarasota area. Kate loves being part of the Washington D.C. community, and has served as a volunteer tour guide at the Smithsonian National Zoo for many years. She also enjoys traveling, musical theatre, Harry Potter, and anything having to do with British History. Kate lives in Maryland with her husband and two cats.

Steve Moore
Hospitality and Operations Coordinator

Steve.moore@floridahousedc.org

Responsible for tours, visitor inquiries, and assists in operations

A native of North Carolina, Steve studied History at the University of North Carolina and went on to serve in the U.S. Navy for 10 years, leaving as a Lt. Commander. He then attended Marymount University in Virginia to earn a Master's Degree in Education. His next career path brought him to Alexandria City Public Schools where he taught high school history for 20 years. He came out of retirement to join the staff at Florida House to continue his love of education and history by engaging with our visitors.

Steve also works as a Guest Experience Supervisor for the Washington Nationals during the baseball season. He enjoys traveling, visiting friends in Florida, reading the Wakulla News, exploring Home Depot, and spending time with his family in Virginia.
